PLAINTIFFS’ MOTION TO REMAND

Plaintiffs file their Motion to Remand, and in support thereof show as follows:

1. On July 11, 2005, Sidley Austin Brown & Wood, LLP (“Brown & Wood Defendants”), removed this case from the Superior Court of the State of New Jersey, law Division Bergen County. The basis on which the Brown & Wood Defendants rely for this Court’s subject matter jurisdiction is 28 U.S.C. §1331. Because this statute does not provide this Court with jurisdiction over this case involving allegations of wrongdoing under state law for the sale of a tax shelter, Plaintiffs have filed this Motion to Remand, seeking remand of this case to the state court from which it was removed.

2. Despite the Brown & Wood Defendants' assertions to the contrary, substantial and disputed issues of federal tax law are not necessary elements of Plaintiffs' claims. Therefore, this Court does not have federal question jurisdiction pursuant to 29 U.S.C. §1331. Further, even if there existed a federal question, removal would still be improper because jurisdiction over this matter would not be consistent with Congressional judgment about the sound division of labor between state and federal courts.

3. In support of its Motion, the Plaintiffs are filing contemporaneously herewith their Brief in Support of Motion to Remand ("Plaintiffs' Brief") and the Affidavit of David R. Deary in Support of Plaintiffs' Motion to Remand.

4. For the reasons set out in Plaintiffs' Brief, Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court GRANT their Motion to Remand and remand this case to the State court.

Respectfully submitted,

KANE KESSLER, P.C.

2. I am lead counsel in over 20 lawsuits regarding the promotion of tax shelters across the country. In addition, I am class counsel in Denney v. Jenkins & Gilchrist (03:Civ-5460), in which an $81.55 million class settlement was approved in the Southern District of New York (now on appeal to the Second Circuit). There were over 1100 members of the original Jenkins class, and 89 opted out to pursue separate litigation.

FURTHER AFFIANT SAITH NOT.

SIGNED this 3 day of August, 2005.
